VIETJET CELEBRATES 45 YEARS OF SOUTHERN LIBERATION FOR NATIONAL REUNIFICATION DAY

Celebrating 45 years of Reunification Day (April 30, 1975 - April 30, 2020), Vietjet's cabin crews and staff put on red flag with yellow star attire with pride and passionate patriotism, especially in the days when everyone join hands to fight against COVID-19.

With the responsibility to the community and the spirit of "not leaving anyone behind", during the past time, Vietjet has made thousands of flights, rescuing hundreds of thousands of passengers from the affected areas of the epidemic; supported free transport for doctors and increased cargo flights to deliver tons of essential goods and medical equipment to prevent and combat the epidemic.

In which, many passenger flights were free and many were one-way ferry, bringing Vietnamese, South Koreans, Japanese, Chinese, etc. back home safely and ensuring no one is stuck. Vietjet has also made repatriation flights for Vietnamese to return from Indonesia, Singapore, Japan, etc.

The safety of all passengers, flight crews, aircraft and the community is always the highest priority of Vietjet's operation through strengthening the coordination of disease prevention and control, strictly controlling health check procedures for passengers and crews before each flight, following mandatory requirements of health declaration and wearing masks, etc. All Vietjet flights are in accordance with global supreme standards and recommendations from authorities, the World Health Organization (WHO) and the International Air Transport Association (IATA).

Returning to the sky, Vietjet continues to increase the flight frequency to meet the travel needs of people nationwide in accordance with the decision of the Ministry of Transport and the Civil Aviation Authority of Vietnam. With the brilliant flights of red flag and yellow star, Vietjet brings passengers national pride and confidence in a brighter future.

VIETJET BRINGS HOME VIETNAMESE NATIONALS FROM SINGAPORE AND INDONESIA

On April 24 and 26, at the discretion of the governments of Vietnam, Singapore and Indonesia, Vietjet cooperated with the Vietnamese Embassy in Singapore, Indonesia and the related authorities to carry out flights to repatriate Vietnamese citizens, of which 215 from Singapore and 105 from Indonesia.

This is a special effort to support citizens of the two countries who are stranded after the international flights have been temporarily suspended to prevent the spread of COVID-19. On the flights, passengers received maximum support in all aspects as well as health care throughout the journey back to their homeland. Some passengers also receive financial and administrative paperwork assistance.

The flights of Vietjet complied with security, sanitary and epidemiological safety standards of the authorities, the World Health Organization (WHO) as well as the International Air Transport Association (IATA) to ensure the safety of all passengers and crews before, during and after the flights. Upon landing in Can Tho, all the crew members and passengers went through medical examination and compulsory quarantine according to current regulations, aircraft were disinfected according to international standards.

Previously, with the spirit and responsibility to the community, Vietjet has made more than thousands of flights to support about hundreds of thousands of passengers leaving the affected areas, transport thousands of tons of essential goods, medical supplies and equipment for pandemic prevention, ensure the health and safety of all passengers, flight crews, equipment and aircraft.

In particular, many of them are free flights, including many one-way ferry flights to bring citizens of Vietnam, Korea, Japan, China, Thailand, etc. back home safely. Vietjet has also operated flights to repatriate Vietnamese citizens from India, Singapore, Japan, etc. to make sure that no one was left behind.

Besides, Vietjet also operates cargo flights to carry normal and essential goods, transport medical supplies and equipment for free to support the pandemic prevention. Vietjet also sponsors free transportation for doctors and medical staff during this time.
